

Deep in Our Hearts: Nine White Women in the Freedom Movement by Joan C. Browning

book

Deep in Our Hearts is an eloquent and powerful book that takes us into the lives of nine young women who came of age in the 1960s while committing themselves to the struggle for civil rights. The book is a collection of oral histories from these women, providing a unique perspective on the movement. It covers the period from the early 1960s to the mid-1960s, a time of intense social and political change. The women's experiences are both personal and political, showing the challenges they faced and the impact of the movement on their lives. The book is a valuable contribution to the history of the civil rights movement, particularly from the perspective of white women.
